

SALT AIR RALLY
AN AWFUL FROSTConspicuous for Things That Didn't Happen.

WAS NOT AS ADVERTISED

ATTENDANCE WAS LIGHT AND PROGRAMME ABANDONED.

If the voters ratify the ticket as the Republicans ratified it at Saltair yesterday, the Democracy of Utah will come into its own next November.

There have been frosts in Utah heretofore, but nothing like that. It began with a drizzle at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and ended at 8 o'clock, when all but about six of those who went to the beach took the train for home.

What Didn't Happen.

Promises were violated thus:

1. There was no big parade.
2. There was no programme at Saltair.
3. Gov. Wells did not preside.
4. Bunch did not show up.
5. Kearns did not speak.
6. Smoot did not speak.
7. Howell did not speak.
8. Sutherland did not speak.
9. Cutler did not speak.
10. Other "local speakers" did not speak.
11. There was no clam bake.
12. There was no large attendance.
13. There was no "jollification."

Senator Kearns Absent.

Senator Kearns did not honor the occasion by his presence. Smoot, Howell, Sutherland, Callister and a few others went out on an afternoon train. Some of them came back on the same train and all of them came home early. Gov. Wells and Mr. Cutler mingled heartily on the dancing floor during the early evening, while a couple of their adherents joyously jostled with their hands on the floor below. Callister, Jennings, Badger, "I. S. S." Howell, and others conversed sedately of the glorious deeds of the yesterday. The governor's faithful hand wandered around, hand in hand, and tried to look pleasant, but a king's jester would have perished of melancholy in that atmosphere. Few of the crowd went into the water. The sores were still too fresh to permit of monkeying around. Saltair together it was the worst ever.

The gloom was lightened momentarily by the greeting of Wells to Cutler. Approaching his successful rival, the governor gave him a hard slap, congratulated him and in sincere tones wished Cutler success and promised to do his utmost to aid Cutler's candidacy. Mr. Cutler appeared to be thankful, and the two men conversed for quite a while.

Aside from this incident the ratification was something—

But stay! Let us not speak harshly of the dead. Let us forget it.
